'White Girl Bleed A Lot': The Return of Racial Violence to America and How the Media Ignore It By Colin Flaherty

Ferguson might be the worst, but it is not the first. Ferguson is just the latest of hundreds of examples of black mob violence around the country.

White Girl Bleed a Lot: The return of racial violence and how the media ignore it was written for the deniers: Reporters and public officials and others who deny black mob violence has reached epidemic levels.

That is why so many readers get another copy: They send it to someone who needs to read it.

Denial is not an option any more. Many of these cases are now on YouTube. And for the first time, readers will be able to scan QR codes to follow the black mob violence on video as they read about it in the book.

For the first time, readers will be able to see the huge difference between what big city newspapers say is happening. And what the videos show is really happening.

The new edition of White Girl Bleed a Lot documents more than 500 cases of black mob violence in more than 100 cities around the country. Many in 2013. And how the local and national media ignore, excuse and even condone it.

Writing in National Review, Thomas Sowell said: "Reading Colin Flaherty's book made painfully clear to me that the magnitude of this problem is greater than I had discovered from my own research. He documents both the race riots and the media and political evasions in dozens of cities."

Neal Boortz said: "Colin Flaherty has become Public Enemy No.1 to the leftist media because of the research he's done on the black culture of violence."

The new edition of White Girl Bleed a Lot documents black mob violence in the bigger cities, such as Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chicago, New York, St. Louis. But also in places where the frequency and intensity of racial violence is not as well known: Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Charlotte, Seattle, Portland, Denver, Las Vegas, Kansas City, Peoria, Springfield, Greensboro, Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, Champaign, Madison and many more.

Readers learn about "Beat Whitey Night" at a Midwest state fair.

Or how a Chicago Police Chief blamed the violence on Sarah Palin and the Pilgrims. Or how Oprah Winfrey gave $1 million to a Philadelphia charter school, only to see its students on video assaulting a white person shortly thereafter.

Or how gays and Asians and women are particular targets.

And how one congressman and former mayor said his city should not crack down on the violence because that will "just make a lot of black kids angry."

And how newspaper editors and reporters say they will not report racial violence. And how some people fight back.

Anthony Cumia, of the Opie and Anthony Show called White Girl Bleed a Lot a "Great Book." As did national talk show host Jesse Lee Peterson. The San Francisco Examiner gave it 5 Stars. More reviews at WhiteGirlBleedaLot.com

Alex Jones of Infowars.com said it was "Brilliant. I could not put it down."

Colin Flaherty has won more than 50 awards for journalism, many from the Society of Professional Journalists. His story about a black man unjustly convicted of trying to kill his wife girl friend resulted in his release from state prison and was featured on NPR, the Los Angeles Times and Court TV.

From the Author

I wrote this book for the people who deny we are in the midst of an epidemic of racial violence.

There are lots of them out there: Reporters. Liberals. Police administrators. Editors. Mayors. Ten years ago, this would have been a he said/she said story. But no more. Today we have thousands of videos of black mob violence. In cities big and small.

Today, for the first time, you can follow these videos on your computer or your smart phone as you read the book. All you have to do is hit a link or scan the QR code.

Very easy.

This book offers no grand causes. No grand solutions. Neither does it apologize. It is written without racism. Without rancor. Just the facts: One after another. The violence. Then denial in the press.

Over and over and over.

Here is what I have learned from writing this book: Many, many people around the country are relieved that someone is telling the truth about racial violence. And doing it without racism.

Unless, of course, you think facts are racist. Don't laugh. Some do. Those folks need a copy of White Girl Bleed a Lot as well.

Lots and lots of copies of this book have been presented to liberal brothers-in-law at a family gathering with the admonition: "Read this, you blankety blank expletive deleted."

Lots and lots of cops read this book too. They are the sources for many of the stories.

When you are finished reading it, I hope you will come over to my web site and let me know what you think. Or @ColinFlaherty on Twitter.

From the Inside Flap

Racial violence is back.

This book documents more than 500 episodes of black mob violence all over the country. More importantly, it documents how the media ignore, condone excuse and even lie about it.

Big words. We back them up with facts that you can see on video by clicking a link -- or scanning a

QR code.

Ever hear about Beat White Night at a Midwest State Fair? How about Black Beach Week: The world's largest race riot? Or how about Columbia, South Carolina, where the police chief blamed the victims of black mob violence.

And lots and lots more. All ignored by local and national media.

All documented here. For the first time.
