The Public Chance: New Urban Landscapes (English and Spanish Edition)

By Aurora Fernández Per, Javier Arpa

A thick volume packed with thirty urban projects, 'The Public Chance' forms in some respects a follow up to the earlier series 'In Common'. This new collection focuses on additional designs for collective public spaces and in so doing offers a renewed vision of both new interventions and earlier presented and now completed projects. Works presented have been divided into four thematic sections, respectively: peripheral voids, waterfronts, industrial areas and infrastructure, and are generously illustrated with colour photographs, plans, elevations and technical details.

Editorial Review

Review

'This is not a cheap book but it could be a very useful reference for potential clients and practitioners looking for inspiration and reassurance of what is possible. [...] Finally the book allow us to evaluate what good urban design has achieved in the recent past and as such it gives a seal of approval to the professions involved', Urban Design

From the Inside Flap

THE PUBLIC CHANCE is a visual analysis of 30 urban landscapes of opportunity. The projects selected are grouped according to scene of origin:

- Industrial areas
- Peripheral voids
- Infrastructures
- Waterfronts.

Each project is located:

- within surroundings of 60 km² at a scale of 1:20,000
- within surroundings of 3.5 km² at a scale of 1:10,000.

Each intervention undergoes a layer analysis:

- water
- vegetation
- buildings
- routes
- rooms
- activities

The 20 most used strategies arise from the comparison of all the projects.
